
 * DEATH IN HUSBANDS' ARMS BETTER THAN LIFE *
 * ALONE FOR THESE HEROINES OF THE TITANIC *

The Titanic heroines—Mrs. H. J. Allison (above) and Mrs. Isadore Straus.

The quiet, smiling heroism of two women stand pre-eminent among the thrilling stories told by Titanic survivors—the love that was greater than death as displayed by Mrs. H. J. Allison of Milwaukee and Mrs. Isadore Straus of New York. Both went down with their husbands on the Titanic, refusing rescue at the cost of separation and after-life of loneliness.